HEAD-ON COLLISION

ENGINEER COULD NOT SEE SIGNAL ON ACCOUNT OF FOG.

KILLED AND BURNED

The Fate of Many Passengers.—Train Runs Into a Washout.—Locomotive Explodes.—A Wreck at Sea.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 19.—A special from Lafayette, Ind., says that 25 persons were killed in the wreck of Big Four passenger train No. 38 near Fowler early this morning twenty of whom were cremated. Owing to a dense fog the engineer of the flyer was unable to see the light of the semaphore, which directed him to stop, as a west bound freight had the right of way. The train dispatcher waved his lantern frantically and fired at least a half dozen shots from a revolver, but the train went on. The tender of No. 38 telescoped the baggage car and cut through to within ten feet of the rear of the smoker. The firemen of both trains were instantly killed, but the engineers escaped by jumping. Immediately following the crash the wreckage caught fire and the bodies were burned before they could be extricated from the ruins. The killed include men, women and children, and all that could be seen at daylight was the smoldering skeletons of human bodies. None of the passengers in the sleeping cars were destroyed by fire, as first reported.

Later information shows that the Pullman cars, with the exception of the vice president's private car, did not turn over, but left the track and were burned after the passengers had been taken out.

Another Report.

Chicago, Jan. 19.—Passenger train No. 38 eastbound on the Big Four railroad collided head-on with west-bound freight, No. 45, at Fowler, Ind., a small town 28 miles west of Lafayette, about 2:30 this morning, killing and injuring a number of persons, variously estimated at from 12 to 25. The passenger train, which left Chicago at 11:30 last night was known as the "Queen City Special," and consisted of a combination baggage and day coach, three sleepers and the private car of C. E. Schaaf, vice president of the road. The train was running at fifty miles an hour, and the force of the collision was so great the tender of the passenger engine was driven the entire length of the combination car in which there were from 15 to 25 passengers. All the dead and injured were in this car, none of the passengers in the sleepers being hurt. Soon after the collision the wreckage caught fire and all the coaches, except the private car of Mr. Schaaf were destroyed. Paul D. Harris, an attorney of Chicago, was so far as known the only one to escape from the combination car. According to him, both trains had orders to stop at Fowler, but the passenger train ran by the signal, which the engineer failed to see in the fog. Mr. Schaaf was not in his private car, but his wife was. She was uninjured.

Kankakee, Ill., Jan. 19.—Seven of the people injured in the Big Four wreck at Fowler were brought here, including the engineer of the passenger train who jumped into a pool of water beside the track, and whose conditions are serious. The others here probably will recover.

Train Runs Into a Washout.

Peoria, Ill., Jan. 19.—Train No. 337 on the Rock Island early this morning ran into a washout three miles west of Bureau, Ill. The engine, baggage car, chair car and sleeper were derailed. The engineer and fireman were seriously injured and four passengers slightly hurt.

Locomotive Explodes.

De Soto, Kan., Jan. 19.—The locomotive driving the eastbound freight train, No. 36, exploded on a bridge near here this morning. The bridge was demolished and the engine and fourteen freight cars went into the creek. The engineer, fireman and one brakeman were buried beneath the wreckage and killed.

Wreck at Sea.

Dover, England, Jan. 19.—The Red Star steamer Vaderland, bound from New York for Antwerp, collided with and sank the Dundee steamer, Haworth Castle, four miles east of the South Goodwin lightship during the night. So far as known, only three of the Haworth Castle's crew of 20 are missing. The Vaderland's bow was damaged below the water line, and the forepeak is full of water, but the bulkheads remained tight, so there is no danger of the ship's sinking. A dense fog prevailed.

KINGSTON SITUATION

THE WORST PROBABLY HAS BEEN REPORTED.

TOWN IS A WRECK

People Living in the Open.—Food and Medical Supplies Continue Scarce.—Death List About 700.—U. S. Marines Aid in Preserving Order.

New York, Jan. 19.—The news from Kingston is still coming in very slowly, and is 24 hours late, but the worst apparently is known. The town itself is a wreck, very few of the houses standing remaining habitable, and the people are living in the open. Food and medical supplies continue scarce, but relief ships are hurrying to the stricken city from many quarters. The death list probably is about 700, and the number of seriously injured in hospitals about 500. Many of the injured are being cared for at their temporary homes.

Dynamite is being used to clear away the menacing ruins. Good order prevails. Admiral Davis, who is in the harbor with the battle ships Missouri and Indiana, was called on for help in the work of policing the city and he promptly landed marines who are now assisting the British authorities in maintaining order.

The two lighthouses at the entrance of the harbor were destroyed, and approach at night is perilous. It is reported that the Hamburg-American steamer Prinz Eitel Friedrich, being unaware of this, ran ashore near the Prinz Waldemar and Prinzessen Louise, two vessels of the same line, which stranded near where one of the lighthouses was located.

No Americans were killed in the disaster, although a large number were in Kingston. Many of these are now on the American war ships waiting for ships to take them home.

CELEBRATING THE ANNIVERSARY OF LEE.

Birmingham, Ala., Jan. 19.—The anniversary of the birth of Gen. Robt. E. Lee is being extensively celebrated in this district today by the Confederate Veterans, Sons and the Confederacy and other patriotic societies. At Pratt City and East Lake crosses of honor were conferred upon the Veterans by the Daughters of the Confederacy. In Birmingham former Governor D. C. Heyward of South Carolina will be the orator at a joint meeting of Veterans, Sons and Daughters of the Confederacy this evening. Later in the evening he also will address the Alumni of Washington and Lee University at the Country Club. The public schools held a celebration last evening.

Tennessee Also Celebrates.

Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 19.—The one hundredth anniversary of the birth of General Lee was generally observed throughout this state today. In this city a program was carried out at the First Presbyterian church, where addresses were made, and General Lee's farewell address to the army was read. All the Confederate organizations in the city took part in the ceremonies.

JUMP SELLS LIVERY STABLE TO FRYFF.

Councilman F. M. Jump has sold a managing interest in his livery stable on Third street to W. M. Fryff, better known as Will Minter. The new proprietor has taken charge and will continue to run the place under the name of The Palace Livery and do a livery, transfer and carriage business. Councilman Jump will leave on a prospecting trip to Oregon and the Northwest. He may decide to return to Roswell and will retain his office as councilman until he decides on a location.

CHAPLAIN BATEMAN ADDRESSES BIG AUDIENCE

The large auditorium of the gymnasium at the Military Institute was well filled last night when Chaplain Bateman, of Fort Bayard, N. M., an officer of the United States Army, delivered a lecture on the battle of Santiago (in the Spanish-American war) as an eye witness. The address was well received, especially by the military students who largely composed the audience and who are especially interested in things military.

The speaker told of the start of the troops from Oregon, their trip across the country to Florida, their sea voyage to Cuba, their landing, the sea fight before Moro Castle, the troubles of the land troops and conditions in Santiago after its attack by the Americans. He closed with a beautiful climax centered about the fall of the entire fortifications and the raising of the American flag. It was a war story from start to finish and was greatly enjoyed by those who appreciate such things. It was filled with smaller stories of wit and humor that appealed to every class of listener and kept up the interest from start to close. The address showed that while the chaplain was in the midst of the action, he had his eyes open to all that was going on and kept in touch with the greater movements as well as the details.

Chaplain Bateman will lecture in the Institute gymnasium at 7:30 this evening on the subject, "Garrison Life on the Frontier." Monday evening his subject will be, "The Philippines, their People, Products and Prospects."

Hon. J. F. Hinkle returned today on the auto from Santa Fe, where he has been attending a meeting of the Territorial Equalization Board. He believes that an anti-gambling bill will be passed by the legislature, and in view of the fact that Roswell, Artesia and Hagerman have set the example for the balance of the Territory, is confident that the councilman and representatives from this district will support the measure. Referring to the proposed county division for the formation of a new county with Artesia as the county seat, Mr. Hinkle believes that our people must get busy to defeat it. There is a disposition among those representatives on the ground at Santa Fe to compromise the Hagerman and Artesia propositions by including both towns in a new county. This will be explained more fully and probably a meeting will be called Monday to take steps for preventing the loss of some of Chaves county's very best territory.

A mass meeting of citizens will be held tonight at Carlsbad for the purpose of organizing to oppose the formation of a new county from territory of Chaves and Eddy counties. It is time that Roswell people were sitting up and taking notice.

NO RELIEF FROM THE FLOOD IN OHIO RIVER

Cincinnati, Jan. 19.—There is no sign of relief from flood conditions today. At eight o'clock this morning the stage of the river at this point was 62 feet, having passed the high water mark since that of Feb., 1884, during the night. For a distance of four squares from the normal water front the lower portions of the city are flooded. The bridges are cut off from the land except for narrow foot passages, and a few more inches will close this gap, leaving the railroad bridges as the only means of communication for passengers. Many of the towns in the vicinity of the city are inundated, and many people are homeless and destitute.

RAIN MELTS THE SNOW AND ICE.

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 19.—A big downpour of rain during the night washed away much of the snow and ice that had covered the Southwest for the past 48 hours. As a result the wire and train service in all directions from Kansas City is improved today, though still more or less interrupted. Over two inches of rain fell in the western half of Missouri and eastern half of Kansas. According to the local weather bureau, the rain storm extended from southeastern Iowa to the Texas line.

Kansas Town Flooded.

Wichita, Kan., Jan. 19.—The Walnut river and Timber creek are flooding the bottoms at Winfield, Kansas, and families are moving out. The water is higher than at any time since the town was built. Fear is felt for the business section, as reports from upstream indicate that the flood has not reached its highest point.

All January Records Broken.

Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 19.—All January records for high temperature in the history of the weather bureau here were broken yesterday afternoon, when at three o'clock the mercury stood at 76.

WALSH INDICTED BY GRAND JURY.

Chicago, Jan. 18.—John R. Walsh, former president of the Chicago National Bank, which closed its doors Dec. 16, 1905, was today indicted by the Federal grand jury for alleged misconduct in the management of the finances of the bank. The indictment is based upon 92 separate transactions, in each of which it is claimed that the funds of the bank were unlawfully used, and contains 182 counts based upon 92 financial operations conducted by Walsh.

TO STRAIGHTEN COURSE OF RIO GRANDE.

El Paso, Jan. 19.—A convention of citizens of Isleta and Socorro and citizens of the Rio Grande Valley met in El Paso yesterday and decided to appeal to the International Boundary Commission for power to cut a canal on the Mexican side of the river, straightening the course in order to save the towns of Isleta and Socorro, and several hundred acres of valley land from being thrown into Mexico by the cutting of a new channel.

IS ON THE "PARSON."

The "Parson" has received the following letter, which he has asked the Daily Record to run in lieu of a sermon. It bears evidence of being written by a woman, and the "Parson" says he never talks back to a woman.

"DEAR PARSON:—If you should ever run out of a subject for your sermon, please allow me to suggest that you give an exhortation to the Roswell Daily Record, and take for your subject the whiskey advertisements with which its pages have been so profusely decorated, for some time.

It may be that family whiskey is a good thing to have, in case of an emergency; but the readers of the Record do not enjoy having "Old Indian River Rye," "Nine Year Old Rippy," etc., rammed down their throats every few minutes, all the time they are trying to gather the contents of the news column. Then some of the Record's readers feel sufficient interest in Roswell and Roswell institutions, to be ashamed of these advertisements, just from the standpoint of refinement, to say nothing of the moral side of the question.

"The Record claims to be opposed to gambling, saloons, and things like that, which every one with common sense knows to be evils; and it does not exactly harmonize with the claim, to advertise the saloon's wares. It strikes a false note, somewhere, Parson. Won't you look into this affair, and see what a good rousing sermon can do for the cause of temperance, truth and consistency. Remind them that it is said, 'By their fruits ye shall know them.' 'A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit.' 'No man can serve two masters.' 'Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation and every city or house divided against itself shall not stand,' and many other passages, you will recall, which prove it isn't right for any decent paper to advertise the saloons.

"In a recent issue of the Record we were told, 'The best judge of whiskey is the one who cuts it out.' Now, we all know that people buy whatever is advertised in the Roswell Daily Record—the Record frequently calls our attention to that fact; therefore, Parson, pray insist that the Record prove itself a good judge as well as a good paper by 'cutting out' the whiskey advertisements. (Signed)

ONE OF YOUR AUDIENCE.

(Perhaps too much familiarity has partially paralyzed the "Parson's" indignation. But this advertising problem has bothered him for a long time. For instance, he finds an ad of the New York Store inside his best Sunday hat; His necktie bears the card of Jaffa, Prager & Co.; Morrison Bros. have taken space on the strap of his shoe; Williams & Co. have an ad. on his coat collar, and there are others on garments unmentionable. It simply never occurred to the "Parson" that it was wrong to run a whiskey advertisement right after one of his sermons. He may have something more to say upon the subject.)
